

Boy #5 (Age 11)

Hi. I think that Christmas is about having fun and what's more fun than family, because family has your back. Don't get me wrong, I love presents but they give you things that you need to live like an education and food or clothes, but most important they give you a life and people to count on. So say thanks because they love you and you love them and that's fun. So listen to your family, do your prayers and you will have a super fun time I promise. Because there's power in numbers and love. So have fun and play with your family, as in your cousins or parents. Just be happy.

Some other things I like is when it snows because I get to sled and snow board, play with my brother and build a snow man. And don't get me started on presents. I love seeing what I get.

Merry Christmas! Ho! Ho! Ho!
