What Christmas means to me is that it was the day Jesus was born. Jesus was born to save us all so we can all go to heaven one day. Christmas also means spending time with family and friends. Christmas brings adults, teenagers, and children together and that is what the Christmas spirit means to me. Here is a Christmas poem I wrote.

The fire was bright on Christmas eve night the children's mother said "good night" then blew out the light. "Now close your eyes tight Santa will come tonight". So they shut their eyes tight and dreamed of Christmas delights.
