

Girl #21 (Age 10)

What Christmas means to me is being close to family and being grateful for what we have or get. We should also be grateful for our families because not everybody has a family or anything at all, so we should spread Christmas cheer to them. If we all work together we can help them by giving to them. When we give to others we are just spreading smiles to people who don't use theirs. One thing we do that gets us in the spirit is decorating and lighting up the tree. Another way to get in the spirit is playing in the snow or sledding. Having Christmas spirit makes us happy and excited. Being excited about only the presents people should double think that, because not everyone gets presents from people.
