What Christmas Means to Me What Christmas means to me is to celebrate Jesus. He came as a baby to die for us, and he lived a painful and sinless life. Just for us. None of us, especially me deserve that. We were supposed to spend eternity in hell, but little did we know that God was thinking NO. He was going to send his son for us. Just to die and rise again. And when me and my family celebrate Christmas, we always have a blast. Family is really important and it kills me knowing that there are people out there who don't have family or know Jesus. But if I win it will give me a chance to share Gods word. God knows everything including that his son, would be tortured and forced to die. John 3:16 says that God so loved the world that he gave his one and only son that whosoever believes in him will have eternal life. God forgives sins. Remember that. And it's not about getting presents. It's about sharing Gods glory with others. And yes, you get presents on Christmas but that's not why we have Christmas. We have Christmas to celebrate God and that he sent his son just so he could die for all of us. You, me, and everybody who hears this. That is the real present and that is what Christmas means to me. Merry Christmas, everybody.
