

Christmas means to me that is when Jesus was born and when family and even sometimes friends get together.