

HASTINGS Jingle & Mingle

Christmas means a lot to me because the people I love and care about can spend time with me. The Christmas spirit flows in the air when I walk in the cold snow. The tree, the lights, and my elf Fred too. The smell of the warm cookies and the cold milk. Waking up to find the half-eaten cookies and the milk all gone. Also opening the presents from good-old St. Nick. I can't forget that one. There's one more thing that I love the most, my parents with the Christmas spirit and the rest of my family too. The hot coco and candy canes fill up my stomach with Christmas cheer. Christmas is not about the presents and hot coco, but it's about the ones you love and care about. If Christmas wasn't a thing, then no one would get presents and Christmas fun. All thanks to Santa for Christmas and as Santa would say "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night".
