

HASTINGS Jingle & Mingle

What Christmas means to me is the spirit of Christmas. When I give to my family, I love their faces when I give them what they have always wanted. What I mean by that is when they open that present and you want to take a video. It's amazing how the Christmas spirit can give so much joy. It's true that it makes people so happy. With people that have never gotten any toys and people who share the Christmas spirit you won't believe how happy they are. If you don't believe in Santa don't ruin that for people that still believe in him. Giving the spirit of Christmas carols people will listen and remember God made all this happen. Watching Christmas movies with your family cuddling up with hot cocoa sledding is amazing. Why would you want to be away from your family when you could be setting up a Christmas tree? Be grateful that you have a family you could not have a single person in your life. When you think of Christmas you think about presents but think about Christmas with family, giving, and so much more. Also making Christmas cookies is a tradition that my family does. That is what I feel is the true meaning of Christmas.

Ps: i don't mind if i don't win princess. If someone elts gets it i am grateful for them.

Merry Christmas, and to all a goodnight
