

Christmas means a lot. I like spending time with my family. One memory i have is when i got a hoverboard. I was so happy I almost cried. It is a moment I am very fond of. The lights that they out up on Christmas makes me feel warm inside. When it is Christmas morning I wake up and wake up my mom to let her know that I want to open presents because i'm so excited. That's what makes me excited about Christmas the end.
