

Christmas is a day to celebrate Jesus' birth as a human man. We are reminded to treat others with kindness and to spread joy and love and peace. We show others these things in small ways like baking a pie for a neighbor, or big ways like making a dream come true for a child. Families and communities come together to spread love and unity and make sure that everyone's needs are met. Jesus treated others with love and we are supposed to too. We should do this all year long. Christmas is when we do it best. This holiday spirit is what Christmas means to me.
