

Christmas means to me that it is about giving and not getting. It also means I get to see my families smiles on there faces. It also means that I feel excited safe and happy to see all my family I don't get to see all the time. It also means means I get to go sledding. It also means I get to have a big dinner with corn mashed potatoes and gravy. It also means I get to see what my family got each other. It also means I get to see what my mom and dad got my sisters. It also means I get to see my Christmas tree filled with present's. It also means I get to think about Jesus and celebrate when he was born. It also means that I can play with my little sister she is so cute but has a big imagination she is also really funny. It also means I get to think about homeless people and think about how they're celebrating Christmas. It also means that I get to get in a cozy blanket and drink hot chocolate.
