Prince Essay #1

Christmas is great. What is not to like? Christmas means laughing and having fun, giving and receiving gifts. Christmas is important to me because it means family, it means happiness, it means kindness and hospitality. Christmas to me means spending time with family I can't talk to very often. It means laughing and talking, catching up on each other's lives. I love seeing the look on my family's faces when they unwrap a present. It's the season of giving: giving joy, happiness, and much more. It means to me making my friends and family's days.

Another reason Christmas is important is all the parties and the parades. Last year's school Christmas party was amazing. All we did was chill, watch cartoons, and eat breakfast, like bacon, eggs, and orange juice. It's fun and a really important time of the year. For a lot of people, it is the only time they get to spend time with cousins, aunts, and uncles, including me. I do not get to spend a lot of time at all with my aunt and uncle on my mom's side. Some people are too busy to hang out. There's work, there are families, and life is busy. That is what Christmas means to me and so many other people. Christmas is beautiful. Merry Christmas to all.
